

Breathe Easy

If there were a way to omit a variety of chemicals from the every-day, you would think everyone would be on board. Well, now you can be. Sansin's new Purity Interior Zero VOC Stain is an environmentally-friendly wood stain that delivers excellent penetration and a uniform appearance sans the toxic fumes. With little to no odor and minimum pigment transfer, the zero VOC stain keeps the integrity of the wood without compromising the clarity and beauty of the product. Now available in a new line of Micro-Fine Colors, this easy-to-apply base offers long-lasting protection without harming your health. For a product demo or 4-oz. sample, call Sansin at 877-SANSIN-1. or visit www.sansin.com.

Classic Product: New Finish

A softer alternative to black, Kohler's new cast-iron color caviar is a partially translucent sink enamel that uses multiple pigments to produce a subtly flecked appearance, which allows consumers more opportunities to coordinate with other materials such as polished granite, slate and marble for countertops or stainless steel appliances. The best part: the soft textural look camouflages water spots. Available at Supply New England's Kitchen & Bath Gallery in West Yarmouth and Edgartown.
