Two Miller Paint Co. Stores in Oregon Announce Addition of Sansin's Water-Based, High Performance Wood Stains

STRATHROY, Ontario; GRANTS PASS, Ore.; and ASHLAND, Ore. – May 8, 2012 – The Sansin Corporation today announced that two Miller Paint Co. stores – one located in Grants Pass, Ore., and another in Ashland, Ore., – will begin carrying Sansin's Enviro Stain water-borne wood finishes.

Beginning May 8, Miller Paint Co. in Ashland (2205 Ashland St.) will offer Sansin's full line of finishes for siding, decks and log homes, as well as Sansin's Purity interior stains and wood treatment products. The Grants Pass store (337 Union Ave.) will carry Sansin's Purity interior clears, interior bases and Microfine Eco-Tones™ beginning May 9.

According to Chris Muck, manager of the Miller Paint Ashland store, the stores serve a large number of customers in southern Oregon who must care for wood decks and homes, and the cool, wet weather can be a challenge. "Sansin products have such a great reputation for beauty and performance," says Muck. "It is nice to be able to offer our customers an eco-friendly stain option that we know also provides excellent performance and reliability despite our weather conditions."

Sjoerd Bos, Vice President of Sansin, says the Oregon climate means wood needs to be well-protected to keep moisture from rotting wood from within. "Sansin's wood finishes not only repel water, but they allow the water to evaporate quickly and keep the moisture equilibrium stable," said Bos. Sansin's water-based stains sink deep into the wood grain, using water to carry modified natural oils deep into the wood for maximum moisture repellency and long-lasting UV protection.
