

The Muskoka Chair Company partners with Sansin.

Nothing can match the comfort and beauty of wood – especially when it comes to rugged out-door furniture. Sansin is proud to announce that the Muskoka Chair Company now specifies Sansin ENS for their full product line-up. Building on a tradition of quality hand-made craftsmanship going back three generations, owners Mike and Tasha Wroe are famous for their traditional furniture built in the finest ‘Muskokas’ style. They also manufacture high-quality plastic deck furniture in Muskoka designs.

Says Mike Wroe, “We chose Sansin ENS because – first of all – it makes wood look exceptionally beautiful. ENS also dries quickly, so that we can get multiple coats on within the hour. And it’s very elastic, so it holds up well to scraping and abrasion. That’s important when it comes to furniture. It performs really well on our plastic chairs and furniture too.”

Tasha Wroe adds, “Sansin really enhances the natural grain and character of our chairs and the finish is beautiful. Plus, when we tell our customers that it’s not harmful to the environment, they feel even better about their purchase.”

Sansin ENS is available in our full range of colors, including our new Nano-Tints. ENS is recommended for dry wood applications that can be coated and sealed on all sides, plastics and other surfaces that require a high-solids finish. To find out more about Sansin, visit sansin.com. To find out more about The Muskoka Chair Company, visit muskokachair.com

