

Sansin Corporation Donates Eco2 Recycled Wood Finish to Tim Horton Children's Foundation for New Manitoba Children's Camp

STRATHROY, Ontario – April 28, 2014 – The Sansin Corporation today announced that it will donate a portion of its Sansin Eco2 recycled wood finish to the Tim Horton Children's Foundation, a non-profit charitable organization which serves economically disadvantaged children and youth in the U.S. and Canada.

Currently, Tim Horton Children's Foundation has six camp locations that offer year-round, leadership and summer programs for children.

By June 2015 the Foundation will open its seventh location at Sylvia Lake Whiteshell Provincial Park, Manitoba, Canada. The new camp allows the Foundation to double the size of its youth leadership program and serve an additional 2,000 participants in the year round program.

The new Manitoba camp will comprise wooden structures for the main lodge, three bunkhouses, a wellness center and yurt platforms. In total, Sansin is donating its adobe color Eco2 recycled finish to cover approximately 60,000 square feet with two coats.

Sansin Eco2 is a zero-waste solid color exterior and clear interior wood finish that was introduced in 2012. It is offered as a limited edition finish and is available in lava, adobe and charcoal colors for the exterior and clears for the interior.

“Camping and wilderness experiences are very important for youth to learn, grow and create memories to last a lifetime,” said Sjoerd Bos, vice president at Sansin. “We are pleased to help the Tim Horton Children's Foundation expand their important mission to bring unique leadership and outdoor experiences to deserving children.”

“The Tim Horton Children's Foundation provides more than just a camp experience to every child who attends,” said Jeffrey Hoffman, Senior Manager, Corporate Partnerships, Tim Horton Children's Foundation. “It's the opportunity for children from economically disadvantaged backgrounds to develop the skills, confidence and positive attitude needed to build a brighter future for themselves. The chance our campers have cannot occur without the ongoing, significant support of partners like The Sansin Corporation. We are truly thankful for their investment.”
